Team Coaching

A team coach works with a team over a period of time to enable it to achieve its full potential by overcoming any challenges and obstacles to progress. Team coaching helps teams achieve clarity of purpose and goals, and to work through changes of membership or leadership.

Azure team coaches help facilitate team discussions and use process consulting skills to analyse and describe team issues. They design and lead events to meet a wide variety of individual team requirements.

What brings teams to coaching?

- A new leader
- Team conflict or dysfunction
- A new team being brought together
- A change in goals or direction
- A desire or need to achieve more effective team performance
