Improving leadership
performance through inspiration

Coaching is one of the most effective ways to empower others and bring out the best in them. How would you like to gain a qualification to give you the skill and confidence to coach really well?

“The tutors and facilitators from Azure are amongst the most supportive and inspirational people I have ever had the pleasure of meeting. The programme allowed me to grow in a safe, supervised environment whilst nurturing me to a place where I felt confident to go out on my own and start to put my new skills into practice.”

“Perfect! The ability to coach well and develop my practice was my main priority and the programme met these objectives. The facilitators’ ability to share their experiences and offer practical insights gave a richness to the programme.”

“10/10. Bang on! Intensive, worthwhile and insightful.”

“The facilitators have been fantastic. Really engaging, supportive, reassuring, knowledgeable and professional. I started with zero skills and experience and have learnt so much along the way.”

(Quotes from participants on recent programmes)

A study by the Institute of Leadership and Management (ILM) found that 92% of coached managers felt their performance had improved and 95% saw direct benefits to the organisation.

Participants of the Level 5 programme may be line managers who wish to coach or mentor as part of their everyday role, those who wish to become an internal coach, or individuals taking steps towards becoming and independent as a coach or mentor by providing themselves with a nationally recognised qualification.

Follow Up

In conjunction with an allocated Azure supervisor, participants will be expected to identify a range of people whom they will coach or mentor and to conduct at least 18 hours of real coaching. Following each session, the participants will record a reflective learning log for discussion with their supervisor. Feedback about practice should also be collected directly from coaches/mentees and ongoing personal development needs identified. This will be used to complete the assignments.

In total, all participants will complete three assignments, details of which will be given during the programme.

Free Group Supervision Session

Group supervision enables coaches and mentors to develop skills, helps them resolve problems that have arisen during practise, ensures coaches and mentors are practising ethically and allows the coach or mentor to gain necessary support from peers and more experienced coaches.

This programme includes one free group supervision session. We will be running open group supervision sessions virtually throughout the year.
